Events of edacentrum and Partners

The edacentrum acts as a mediator for the exchange of information concerning microelectronics and EDA. In this role it organizes the edaForum, the edaWorkshop as well as Technical and Cooperation Workshops and project workshops. For a comprehensive and useful representation with a searching functionality it provides a conference calendar named edaCalendar. Moreover, it supports events whose aim is the technical exchange of information in this area. The following tables show lists of selected future and past events in this context.
